Quotable

"The CJAD major has some exciting opportunities waiting for students! Our Crime Scene Investigation (CSI I & II) courses, taught by an experienced investigator, includes crime scenes laid out for students to investigate, collect evidence, and solve crimes. A mock trial and scientific lab experience complete the criminal justice process for these courses. Our legal courses are taught by a former police attorney with first-hand experience of interacting with law enforcement officers. As students progress through the criminal justice curriculum, CJAD professors guide their educational journey of advising them in selecting courses in their areas of interest that might include terrorism, intelligence gathering, homeland security, cybercrime, international issues in public safety, organized crime, and much more that will prepare students for a career in the 21st Century criminal justice system."

Dr. Bobbie Cox, Chair, Department of Public Service and Associate Professor of Criminal Justice

"The College of Health Sciences faculty and staff are committed to staying abreast with trends in healthcare education. We strive to co-create and implement programs that are competitive with other state and national Health Sciences programs. I am thankful for the high-performing teams within the College of Health Sciences and their willingness to seek "Joyful Work" daily!"

Dr. Nicole Waters, Associate Provost of the College of Health Sciences

"Several factors contributed to the increase in the DCP elementary education and BK programs: The implementation of the Teacher Assistants to Teachers Scholarship program, the excellent performance of our candidates on teacher education exit examinations, the impeccable reputation of the GWU educator, and the knowledgeable and student-centered faculty and staff.

Athletics

- During the spring 2020 term, the average semester GPA for student athletes was 3.391, up from the 3.146 earned in spring 2019. The GPA for all women's teams was 3.600, led by cross country at 3.896. The lowest women's team, lacrosse, still averaged 3.440. Tennis set the pace in the men's division with a semester GPA of 3.670. The overall men's average was 3.260.
- 74 athletes (up from 48 in 2019) earned a 4.0 GPA during the spring term. 40 were women, including seven of the 19 members of the swimming team and eight of the 28 athletes that comprised the lacrosse squad. Soccer (7) led the way for the men. Currently, 20 athletes (11 men and 9 women) are carrying 4.0 cumulative GPAs.
- 93.2% of women athletes (152 of 163) earned a semester GPA of 3.0 or higher; 73.7% of men did so (199 of 270). Overall, 351 of GWU's 433 athletes achieved this standard (81.1%).

- Gardner-Webb ranked ninth (down from fifth, 2018) in men's sports in the Big South Conference in the NCAA's Graduation Success Rate 2019 report. Golf took first place; the next highest ranked team was baseball (4th). Gardner-Webb's women finished fourth (up from fifth, 2018) despite having five of its seven teams—basketball, golf, soccer, tennis and volleyball—finish in a tie for first place. Overall, GWU finished fifth (up from seventh, 2018).
- In the conference's NCAA Federal Graduation Rates standings, Gardner-Webb's men finished eighth (down from seventh, 2018) while the women placed second (up from fifth, 2018). Cross Country/Track was GWU's highest-ranked men's sport (second) while tennis and volleyball set the pace in the women's division with first place finishes.
- The one-year retention rate for athletes entering GWU in the fall of 2018 was 67.7%, the lowest mark in 15 years. Male athletes returned at a rate of 60.2%, the lowest percentage since 2004. Women returned at a rate of 84.3%--nearly 20 percentage points higher than the 2017 cohort. Of those teams with at least four first-time athletes, men's golf, men's and women's swimming, lacrosse, and softball realized a one-year, 100% retention rate.
- The six-year graduation rate for athletes was 54.7%, down nearly eight percentage points from last year's record of 62.5%. The rate for female athletes was 60.3%, down over 15 percentage points from the previous year. The men's rate of 51.1% was also down; nearly six percentage points lower than the 2013 cohort.
- on the field, Gardner-Webb's cumulative regular-season winning percentage in the 11 head-to-head sports sponsored by the Big South Conference during the truncated 2019-20 year was 50.94%, up one percentage point from the previous year's all-time record. This was good for fourth place in the league--GWU's highest ranking in history. Radford was the top performer, winning 58.73% of its games followed by Campbell (58.49%) and Winthrop (53.61%). After three consecutive years at the top of the Big South, winning over 60% of its games, High Point fell to fifth in 2019-20 with a winning percentage of 50.33. Presbyterian finished with the lowest winning percentage in the conference (35.34%).
- 2019-20 was only the third time in history that GWU's conference winning percentage was higher than its overall winning percentage.
- Three of GWU's six teams that completed head-to-head regular seasons finished in third place—men's soccer, women's soccer and men's basketball. High Point (4) and Campbell (3) captured seven of the ten contested Big South championships.
- Since joining the Big South Conference prior to the 2008-09 season, Gardner-Webb's most successful sport, based on win-loss percentage, is men's basketball (51.4%), followed closely by women's basketball (50.9%). Based on final conference positioning, and including both head-to-head and event sports, the most successful GWU team during the twelve-year period is women's golf with an average annual final standing of 4.18.

Quotable

"Our student-athletes continue to embody what it means to be a STUDENT-athlete. We are incredibly proud of the amazing work that they do each semester. They took on a challenging situation this past spring and made the most of it. The success of our student-athletes would not be possible without the outstanding support of our faculty, staff, coaches, and administration at Gardner-Webb."

Carrie Drake Baker, Director of Academic Services for Student-Athletes

"Academics have always been a big part of what I look for in our players. Great students typically have great work ethic, are great teammates and make good decisions on and off the golf course. These are things that can be easily passed to our younger players and hopefully lead to better golf scores as well."

Tee Burton, Head Golf Coach

"It's gratifying to see how well our student-athletes balance their academic responsibilities with the athletic challenges that they look forward to. They attack both with a high level of excitement and determination. Our coaches do a great job understanding Gardner-Webb's mission and recruiting student-athletes who will flourish in this environment and develop to their full potential."

Chuck Burch, Vice President for Athletics

Class Size

• The average class size for all programs was 12.18. Broken out by program, along with the department/school with the largest average section size:

Program	Avg. Section Size	Largest Avg Section/Program
TUG Core	18.08	24.50 Business
TUG Upper Level	10.93	15.27 Business
All TUG	12.88	16.91 Psychology
Non-Traditional UG	14.17	26.40 Social Sciences
Graduate	10.06	24.70 Physician Assistant Studies

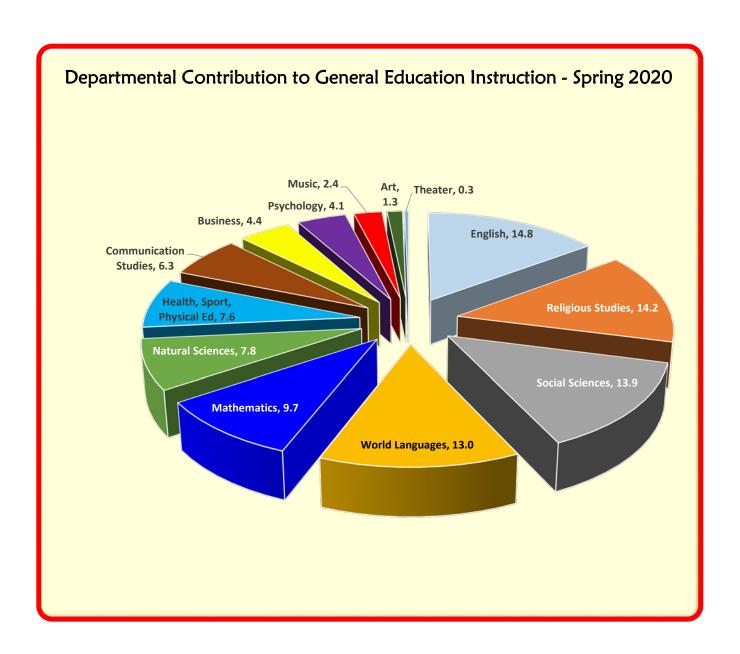

- English contributed the highest percentage to the university's core instruction, (14.84%), followed by Religious Studies (14.16%), Social Sciences (13.94%), World languages (12.99%), and Mathematics (9.71%).
- Business contributed the highest percentage to the University's GOAL/DCP instruction (27.27%) while Education covered 34.32% of the University's graduate level instruction.
- Four departments contributed over 50% of their resources to core instruction—World Languages (68.32%), English (58.00%), Health, Sport and Physical Education (52.96%) and Social Sciences (50.41%). At the other end of the scale, Business contributed only 4.48%.

Quotable

"There exists a delicate balance between maximizing the size of classes from an administrative efficiency standpoint and maintaining the University's commitment to one-to-one faculty/student exchange. Prospective students are told they will be more than just a number when they come to Gardner-Webb. Our office tracks average class size on an annual basis, in part, so that this promise plays out for the entirety of the student's academic career."

Ms. Lisa Kindler, Director of Institutional Research

Cohort Characteristics

• 139 North Carolina high schools were represented in the 2019 cohort, up from 130 in 2018 and 124 in 2017. Schools that supplied four or more students to the 2019 FTFT cohort along with their most recent five year totals:

	2019	2018	2017	2016	2015
Home School	13	14	7	9	6
Crest HS	9	10	21	17	17
Burns HS	8	10	8	3	5
Kings Mountain HS	8	6	4	7	8
Thomas Jefferson CA	6	5	2	4	5
Trinity HS	5	1	0	0	0
Forest View HS	4	3	4	6	0
East Forsyth HS	4	0	1	1	0

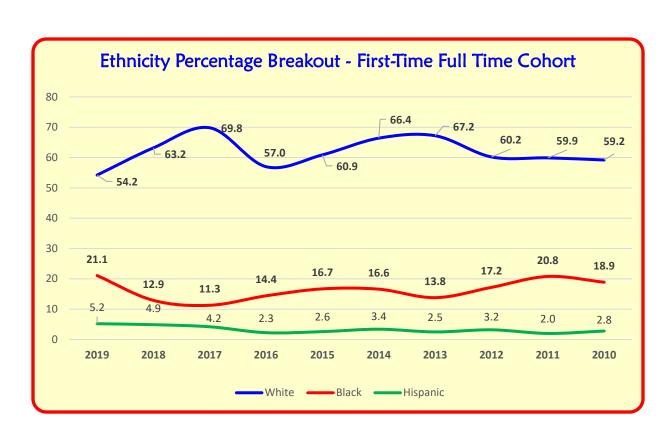

- Crest's number was an all-time low as was the number from Shelby High School (0).
- The total cohort of 402 was seven less than in 2018. It was the second lowest entering class on record since 2006.
- The percentage of females dropped by 2.4 percentage points to 54.2% after topping 60% in 2017--the lowest percentage of females since the 2012 cohort.
- 39.1% of first-time students were athletes—the highest percentage ever and three percentage points higher than the 2018 record. 58.7% of first-time men were athletes, also topping 2018's previous high of 55.1%.
- 54.2% of the cohort listed their ethnicity as "White," down nine percentage points from 2018 and 15.6 percentage points from 2017's record of 69.8%. A record 21.1% identified as "Black," up 8.2 percentage points from 2018 and nearly ten percentage points from 2017's all-time low of 11.3%. 5.2% described themselves as "Hispanic," the highest percentage ever.
- 60.2% were from North Carolina, the lowest percentage ever.

Quotable

Over the past two years, we are seeing an increase in homeschool student enrollment. A trend that is likely to continue given the current landscape. Students can experience small class sizes and personalized engagement with faculty, much like the homeschool learning environment.

Expanding outside of our N.C. regional market was a specific recruitment effort. Targeted recruitment travel, scholarship incentives, and key high school visits provided the foundation for increasing enrollment outside of North Carolina. Students are choosing Gardner-Webb.

Comparative

 Numerous benchmark indicators are used when comparing Gardner-Webb with other NCICU (35) and southeastern US private institutions (237). Twenty of the most significant categories are included in the table below. The following definitions will be helpful in understanding the various terminology:

Total Cost of Attendance – tuition, fees, room, board, books, incidentals

Real Cost of Attendance - tuition and fees minus institutional aid

Discount Rate – institutional aid divided by tuition and fees

Net Price – total cost of attendance minus all scholarship aid

Admissions Selectivity – number of admitted divided by number of applicants

Admissions Yield – number of enrollees divided by number admitted

Quotable

"The marketplace for college-ready high school seniors has never been more competitive, especially in North Carolina. Gardner-Webb University has long stood out among its competitors for providing rigorous degree programs within a caring Christian environment. Now, we must also measure up against North Carolina and other southeastern private institutions with respect to such metrics as affordability, selectivity, retention, and graduation rates. The most recent data presented here place GWU within the Top 10 in six categories relative to NCICU peers, and we rank reasonably high in both graduate and transfer enrollment when compared to other private schools in the southeast. That said, I've never met anyone who loudly proclaimed, "We're #29!" At Gardner-Webb we aspire to elevate our rankings, and this Academic Year in Review document provides an essential baseline against which we will measure our progress moving forward."

Doctor of Nursing, New Students	+ 44 (176.0%)

Quotable

"The enrollment uptick really became visible and quantifiable during the spring 2020 semester. After four years of linear decline, the "bottoming-out" totals that were evident in the fall term quickly materialized into significant across-the-board gains as counts became official in late January."

Dr. Jeff Tubbs, Vice President for Planning and Institutional Effectiveness

"The success Gardner-Webb University is experiencing in the enrollment trends is due to a few things: Almost a year ago I put together a task force to focus on how we can improve and enhance the student experience. The task force came up with several recommendations from when a student enrolls to when a student reaches that incredible milestone of graduation. The recommendations has helped to guide the institution's focus on improving student retention and championing student success. Lastly, I want to personally recognize and thank the Digital Learning team being open to feedback and for stepping forward to help advance our efforts."

Ms. Mavia Lee, Assistant Vice President for Digital Learning

• Spring 2020 hours for all programs totaled 36,531, an increase of 807 (2.26%) from 2019. One-year, double digit enrollment gains were seen in the following programs:

Regular Program, Full-Time Students	+ 12	( 1.0%)
Regular Program, Continuing Students (10+ hours)	+ 15	( 1.3%)
Regular Program, Resident Students	+ 33	( 3.2%)

Faculty

Demographics

- 54.3% of the 162 members of the full-time teaching faculty were women (the highest percentage in GWU history).
- 46.9% were tenured with another 9.9% on tenure-track. The combined percentage of 56.8% tenured/tenure track faculty continues the linear decline of the past five years.
- 37.7% held the rank of professor while 21.6% were associate professors and 27.8% assistant professors.

Quotable

"It's great to note the increase in full-time faculty who are women – great strides forward. Overall, I've felt supported as a woman and a leader here."

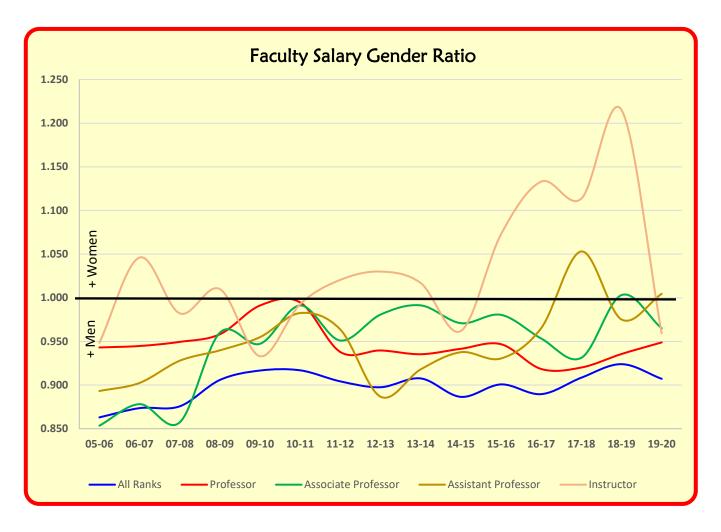

Dr. Cheryl Duffus, Professor of English, QEP Director, Faculty Chair

Salaries

• The average faculty salary for all ranks increased by 1.36%. This was the sixth year in the past seven that salaries rose. The one-year average increase for men (2.21%) was higher than that of women (0.36%). The average salary for both professors and associate professors increased slightly while assistant professors and instructors experienced a minimal decrease. At all ranks, women earned 90.7% of males, down slightly from the previous year's record of 92.4%. For only the second time in at least the last 15 years, women assistant professors earned more than men. Median and average salaries (along with the one-year change and gender ratio/direction):

Gardner-Webb placed 17th among NCICU (n=36) and 91st among 238 southeastern privates (60th %tile) in average faculty salary for all ranks. By specific rank, GWU's place among NCICU was as follows: Professor (18th); Associate Professor (16th); Assistant Professor (14th); Instructor (18th).

Overload Pay

Overload pay for all instructors in spring 2020 continued a five-year downward trend, dropping $40,000 from spring 2019. Pay for FTTF increased by $21,338 while outlay to adjuncts decreased by about $61,000. 52% of all overload pay went to support graduate programs, 24% each to TUG and DCP. Three schools accounted for 65% of the all overload pay—Education (38%), Business (16%) and Nursing (11%).

Grading

- Due to the change in delivery methodology that occurred during the spring 2020 semester because of the coronavirus, students were given the option of receiving a grade of "P" in lieu of a letter grade. 474 grades were changed to "P" in the TUG program, 85 in non-traditional undergraduate programs and 30 at the graduate level. These changes had a dramatic effect on grade point averages across the board.
- The average TUG program grade awarded by all faculty during the spring 2020 semester was 3.507, the highest ever for any term and nearly .3 points higher than spring 2019's previous record of 3.216. The average grade awarded in the TUG program by full-time teaching faculty (FTTF) was 3.513, by part-time/adjunct faculty 3.458. Not surprisingly, both values were the highest for any semester in the University's history.
- 59.0% of all TUG grades were A's—the fourth consecutive spring semester over 50% after never having exceeded that level before spring 2017. A's and B's combined for 83.1% of all TUG grades. C's accounted for 7.2% of all grades; D's 0.2%, F's 0.9% and P's 8.4%. 90.6% of all non-P grades were A's.
- The average non-traditional undergraduate grade was 3.460 with 66.5% of non-P grades being A's. The average graduate-level grade was 3.739 with 79.7% of non-P grades awarded in the A category.
- For the first time in history, no full-time instructor's average grade was below 2.0. The most rigorous instructor's average grade was 2.579; only nine faculty awarded average grades of less than 3.0. In the spring 2019 semester, three faculty members' average grade was below 2.0 and 36 were below 3.0.
- Non-P grading breakout for the most recent three-year period is shown below:

Retention/Graduation Rates

• The University's one-year retention rate for first-time full-time students was 73.6%, down 3.1 percentage points from the 2017 cohort's all-time record. Nonetheless, it was the sixth time in seven years that the first-year retention rate topped 70%. Gender differentials were dramatic. The retention rate for men was 64.2%, 14 percentage points lower than the previous year and the lowest mark since the 2010 cohort. The retention rate for women exceeded 80% for the first time in GWU history (80.7%), topping last year's previous record of 75.4%. The retention for non-athletes was (76.8%), slightly below last year's record of 77.1%.

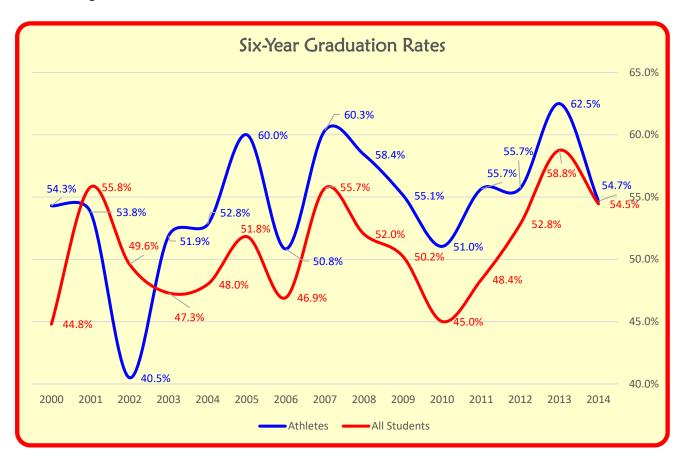

• The one-year retention rate for athletes entering GWU in the fall of 2018 was 68.7%, the lowest mark in 15 years. Male athletes returned at a rate of 61.6%, the lowest percentage since 2004. Women returned at a rate of 84.3%--nearly 20 percentage points higher than the 2017 cohort. Of those teams with at least four first-time athletes, men's golf, men's and women's swimming, lacrosse, and softball realized a one-year, 100% retention rate.

- The six-year graduation rate for the class entering in 2014 was 54.5%, down from last year's all-time record of 58.8% but still the fourth highest mark in the University's history.
- The six-year graduation rate for athletes was nearly the same as the cohort overall (54.7%), down from last years' all-time record of 62.5%. It was the third lowest value in the last ten years. The rate for female athletes was 60.3%, down over 15 percentage points from the 2013 cohort and the lowest mark in 22 years. The men's rate of 51.1% was down six percentage points from last year's all-time high of 57% but was still the fifth highest percentage in GWU history.
- The four-year graduation rate of 42.1% represents a four percentage point increase from the 2015 cohort and is the fifth highest mark in 15 years and seventh highest all-time.

Quotable

"We have worked hard in the Student Success Division to find any stumbling blocks impacting our students, present them to the Board of Trustees and Senior Staff, and find solutions to those road blocks. I believe this is the reason why our retention numbers have steadily improved. We will continue to fight the good fight for our students so that Gardner-Webb is a place where all students feel they can accomplish their goals and dreams, for God and Humanity!"

Edwina Rozelle, Director of Student Persistence and Success Coach
