1	The only thing that I feel would make it better is if the online classes had less concrete dates. I know from experience that sometimes you can't get online every week and if you miss a week that effects your grade. Personally I have done better when I could truly do a class at my own pace.	1/13/2017 12:50 AM
2	The School of Business needs to create a standard grading scale so that grades are comparable for the entire major. An A+ looks better than an A on a transcript, even if the number grade was a 98 in both courses. The entire department could do more to streamline material to reduce excessive overlap. There should also be more emphasis on recruiting for internships and jobs throughout the year.	10/24/2016 10:00 PM
3	Very disappointed with lack of classes offered in house and rotation of classes offered in house. On line instructors not always responsive and not "taught". Basically learn on own.	10/20/2016 10:02 PM
4	Needs more Cyber or computer security classes to be offered.	10/19/2016 5:12 PM
5	Change the capstone class to a course that will be useful to students after they graduate.	10/18/2016 2:04 PM
6	Just more preparation	10/18/2016 11:26 AM
7	Look for different teaching methods for some online accounting classes, especially. Often times just asking to read the chapter and take a quiz is not a learning experience when it comes to accounting.	10/6/2016 9:54 AM
8	With many of the online courses that I had, there was an overload of busy work. This does not promote the learning and education of students. Retention of information is minimal due primarily to the fact the latest you work hard to complete all of the assignments. There is no time for reflection or study. It is simply a task to get done before the next one. Many of these classes should be audited for time. When a student works 40+ hours a week and has 4 classes, and it takes 10 hours a week of busy work for just one of those classes, the quality of education suffers.	10/3/2016 8:03 PM
9	None that i can think of.	9/30/2016 7:56 AM
